Next week is half term so the nursery will be closed

NSPCC—Keeping children safe

There is a new guide for parents of young children. It tells us how to talk to young children about keeping themselves safe. It involves a cute cartoon about a dinosaur called "Pantasaurus." and includes a catchy song.

Take the time to have a look online.

If you would like to talk about this or any other concerns come and speak to Carrie or Emma.

On Friday 1st March it is World Book Day. We will be having a pyjama day and reading some of our favourite bedtime stories. You are welcome come into nursery wearing your pyjamas or fancy dress.

Chantalle has been helping us out in the classroom for the past few months. She is now going to be working with us until the end of summer. We are very happy that she has become part of the team!

We provide a healthy snack for all children at every session. Following the recent budget cuts that all schools are facing, we would really appreciate any donations you can provide to help us to continue with this.

We are asking if you could please:
Donate £5 a term

or

Donate apples, carrots, pears, grapes, pears, crackers or pitta bread.

Thank you.

Katie's Class - The older children have been learning about woodwork. We have been introducing one or two children at a time with strict supervision to simple skills. We know woodwork is great for developing children's

- hand-eye coordination
- understanding instructions
